Identifying cables

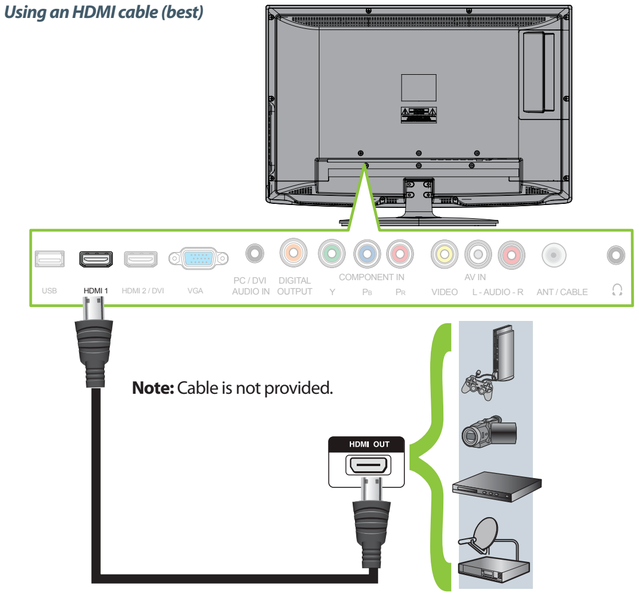
Your TV has several connection types for connecting devices. For the best video quality, connect a device to the best available connection.

Connection type	Video quality	Cable connector
HDMI video/audio	Best
OR
Component video and analog audio	Better
OR
Composite video and analog audio	Good

You can use an HDMI jack to connect a DVI device to your TV. You need to attach an HDMI-to-DVI adapter to the end of the HDMI cable that connects to the DVI device's jack.

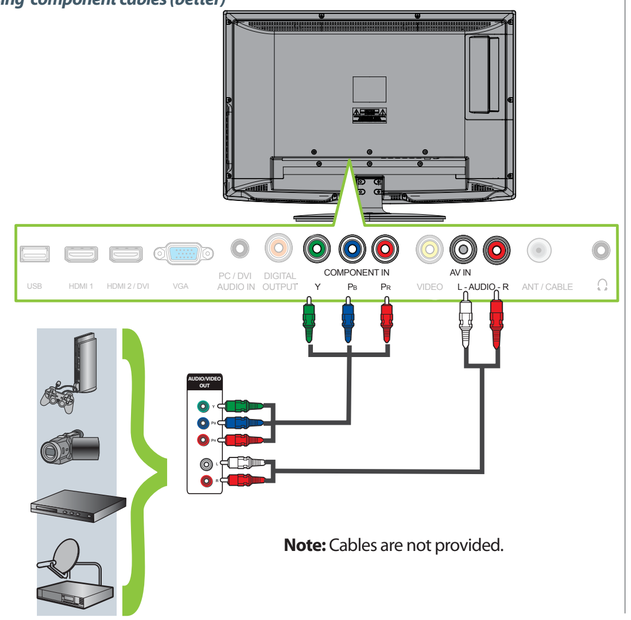
Connecting a DVD or Blu-ray player, cable box, satellite receiver, camcorder, or game station

Using an HDMI cable (best)



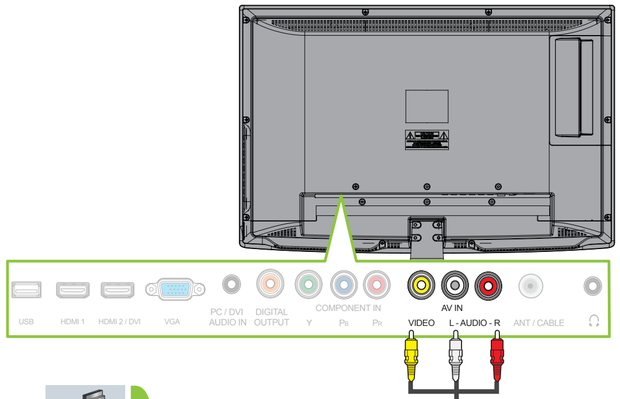
Note: Cable is not provided.

Using component cables (better)



Note: Cables are not provided.

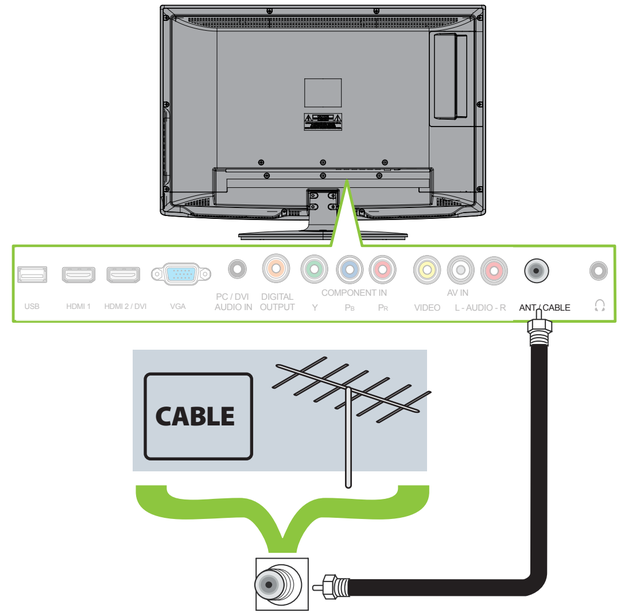
Using composite cable (good)



Note: Cable is not provided.

Connecting an antenna/cable wall jack

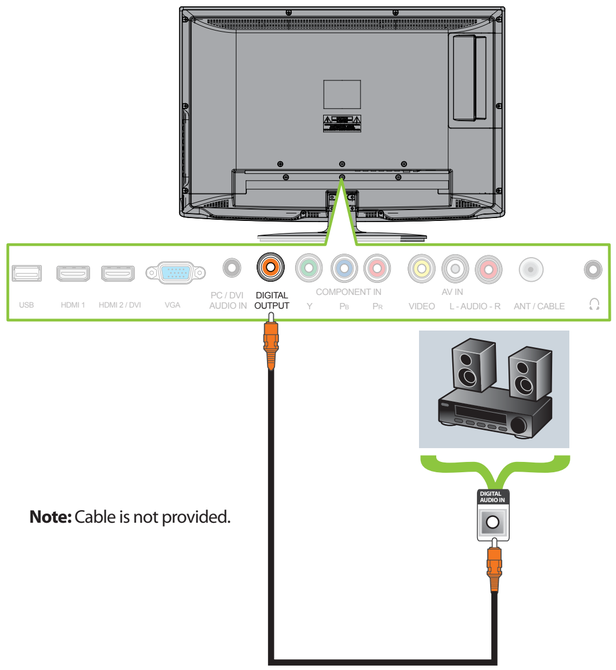
Connect a coaxial cable to the ANT/CABLE IN jack on the back of your TV /DVD combo and to the antenna/cable wall jack.



Note: Cable is not provided.

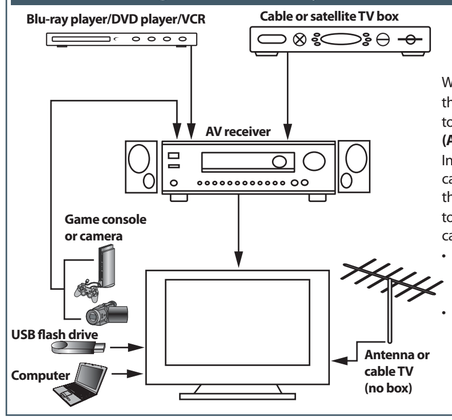
Connecting a home theater system

Using digital audio



Note: Cable is not provided.

Connecting a home theater system with multiple devices



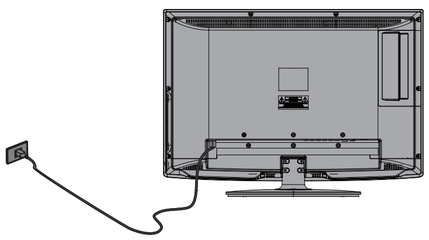
We recommend that you connect the AV receiver's HDMI OUT jack to your TV/DVD combo's HDMI IN (ARC) jack.

In the following situations, the HDMI cable routes Dolby Digital audio to the AV receiver, so you do not need to connect a separate digital audio cable:

- When you have a game console connected to one of your TV/DVD combo's HDMI IN jacks.
- When you watch a program through an antenna or cable TV connected to the ANT IN jack.

Connecting power

Plug the AC power cord on the back of your TV/DVD combo's into a power outlet.



Setting up and using your remote control

1. Press the release button on the back of the remote to remove the battery compartment cover.
2. Insert two AAA batteries into the battery compartment. Make sure that the + and – symbols on the batteries match the + and – symbols in the battery compartment.
3. Replace the cover.
